Finger on the Pulse

Entrées

National Clinical Directors

We are incredibly fortunate to have THE two leading lights in pharmacy today joining with us in the form of the two national pharmacy tsars, the National Clinical Directors for Community, Primary Care and Hospital Pharmacy, Jonathan Mason and Martin Stephens. They will be interviewed on stage to find out what has changed since they have taken up their roles and what they can see changing in the next twelve months.

Monitoring People with Cardiovascular Disease

As a GP with a Special Interest, Dr Chris Arden will provide the background and a discussion forum on factors that are taken into account when assessing Cardiovascular risk and managing risk reduction in patients who have been identified.

Main Courses

You can attend three of the Learning Sessions, leave with hints and tips on how to make real change happen, ideas on making the most from the opportunity and a specific action plan relevant to your personal practice.

Attend THREE of the following:

Demonstration of Vascular Checks

Telehealth Solutions & Inverness Medical have a solution to a key issue of pharmacies doing NHS Health Checks – getting data onto GP systems.

Healthy Living Pharmacies

Helen Walters will be revealing the latest insights into what Healthy Living Pharmacies will look like in the near future and how they might take their role in protecting from Cardiovascular Disease.

Acute Stroke Management

Edward Horne, Senior Pharmacist at Southampton University Hospitals Trust will examine acute stroke management and secondary prevention.

Communicating Risk

Deborah Evan's practical workshop will consider the impact of communicating risk, how to tailor the approach to individuals and the importance of providing lifestyle intervention options.

Innovations in Cardiac Care

Michelle Cerrato will be bringing the latest innovations in the hospital care of patients with myocardial infarction and their after care.

Pre- & Post-Hospital Care

Integrating pharmaceutical care across primary and secondary care to make a difference to medicine management before and after hospital admission with Nicola Barnes and Jenny Wingfield.

What Happened Was...

The Isle of Wight NHS PCT now has more enhanced services than any other in the country – Kevin Noble and Gary Warner explain the how, the why and what next...

EPS In Action

Jerry Norman from Connecting for Health will be demonstrating the operation of the next generation of Electronic Prescriptions.

Desserts

Developments in Diabetes

Victoria Lee is a new specialist hospital pharmacist in diabetes and will focus on recent developments and the future management prospects for Type 2, both in secondary care and in the community.

Excited and Motivated

Trevor Gore should really need no introduction. As a presenter for Reckitt Benckiser, he has probably been seen by more pharmacy staff than any other person alive. He will be (attempting) to liven us all up after a full day by reminding us that we can really Make It Happen and how to maximise our opportunities.

Petit Fours - CPD

With mandatory CPD now with us, Sue Carter, RPSGB CPD Facilitator, will be running sessions throughout the day that it is even easier with hints and tips on how to make a record starting at each stage using sessions to show how a record could be written from what has just been heard and what the reviewers will be looking for.
